

Propel pipeline

Stages each mode runs

Auditors (paper alignment, silent bugs, JAX logic, regressions) check every change as read-only subagents and report at G3.

Codex is consulted automatically at every gate, announced each time, and every claim it makes is verified against your code first.

Everything here is machine work — except the filled diamonds. Those are decisions only you can make, and nothing moves past them without you.